

ACOUSTIC MAGIC

Sound Wizard, an acoustic design consultancy founded by Didier Weiss in Auroville, combines art and science to produce world-class studios and home theatres. They blend interior design with acoustic science to ensure that sound and space work effectively together.

From affordable audiophile-grade home theatres to vast studio complexes, complete with bar, gym, landscaped pool and anything else creative hearts desire, Sound Wizard offers a broad and creative range of studio configurations. They also specialize in designing boardrooms and conference halls, lounge bars and nightclubs and auditoriums expressly configured for dance, drama, music or multi-purpose use.

The firm covers all aspects of architectural acoustics — specifically, the holy trinity of sound treatment, ergonomics and aesthetics — and offers complete hi-tech audio-visual solutions, in conjunction with specialists in audio and video technology. Sound Wizard's philosophy of Architectural Acoustics holds that acoustic spaces not only affect total quality of sound but also the way artists perform on stage or in a recording studio.

Assisted by the latest 3D software modelling tools, expertise in contemporary architectural techniques and extensive practical experience, Sound Wizard creates optimal solutions for the most complex and demanding circumstances. Room acoustic prediction, convolution and auralization software paired with industry-standard spectrum analyzers permit them to meet the most exacting customer needs.
